

The Super Bowl Half Time was a disgrace to decency. The participants as well as the sponsors should be fined to the fullest extent possible for using public airways for piping their filth into American homes.